- Introduction

The aim of this policy is to assist pupils in becoming successful and resilient learners, confident individuals and responsible of the community by developing and making clear boundaries of acceptable behaviour. This is underpinned by trauma informed approaches. The policy aims to be as proactive as possible rather than reactive. We believe first and foremost in the importance of good relationships to foster our pupil's sense of safety and security through nurture, warmth and empathy. This is also underpinned by actively teaching and rewarding good behaviour rather than simply punishing negative behaviour. Children need to know what is expected of them in terms of positive behaviour. This will be achieved through strong leadership, shared responsibility, and the application of a clear and consistent system of rules, routines and consequences underpinned by positive relationships and a sense of belonging. Encouraging positive behaviour through school systems

- Responsibilities introduction:

The Policy for Conduct and Behaviour is shared with parents because we believe that we should all work together towards a common aim. This will ensure consistency of approach so that the children understand fully that which is expected of them. The children's responsibilities are listed because we would like to develop their responsibility and self-discipline as opposed to imposed discipline. Only by all those concerned working together, can the school community become a place where all can feel respected and flourish.

Consequences

- The aim of our school ethos is to emphasise the positive, with praise and recognition of achievements. However, clear and simple procedures need to be in place so that the children understand the consequences of poor behaviours. Should a child's behaviour in the classroom be unacceptable and disrupt teaching and learning, then the class teacher will intervene. Our Rewards and Sanctions framework makes it clear how we deal with behaviour within school.
- In the unlikely event of a pupil requiring positive handling techniques to keep themselves and others safe from harm, agreed protocols will be adhered to. Behaviour logs Severe behaviour or repeated concerns will be dealt with proper procedures, our recording system within school, as well as actions taken to address this. Exclusions Temporary exclusion from school would only be considered when all other strategies had been considered and found to be inappropriate and if the continued presence of the child was considered to be unsafe, either for him/herself or others, or exclusion was necessary to deal with a crisis or with an emergency. The length of exclusion should relate to the individual circumstances of the pupil. All exclusions will be reported to, and conducted with the agreement of, the Gurdwara Standards Committee.
- REVIEW OF POLICY
The school policy on Conduct and Behaviour will be reviewed annually by the school Seniors.
- Our approach to incidents of bullying -
' (Roland and Munthe 1993) 'Bullying happens when one person or a group tries to upset another person by saying nasty or hurtful things again and again. Sometimes bullies hit or kick people or force them to hand over money or over internet/social media; sometimes they tease them again and again. The person who is being bullied finds it difficult to stop this happening and is worried that it will happen again. It may not be bullying when two people of roughly the same strength have a fight or disagreement.'
In line with discrimination laws, any incidents of name calling which are targeted at a child because of race, gender or sexuality will be recorded following guidelines. It is the responsibility of everyone to prevent it happening and with this in mind we have laid down the following guide lines. We will react firmly and promptly where bullying is identified. Some of these would include:-
 - discussions with parents and children.
 - withdrawal of favoured activities.
 - referral to the Headteacher.

- exclusion from school.

Incidents of bullying will be managed swiftly and taken seriously. Our first responsibility is to ensure the victim feels happier and safe in school.

The school will :-

- support children who are being bullied.
- help bullies to change their behaviour.
- take bullying seriously and find out the facts of any incident.
- meet those concerned individually.
- use peer group pressure to actively discourage bullying.
- break up bully groups where it seems necessary.
- involve parents at an early stage.
- help children to develop positive strategies and assertion.
- be equally concerned about bullying to and from school.
- record incidents of bullying in a consistent way that allows for monitoring of behaviour.
- discuss and involve children in agreed class and school rules and behaviour.

➤ WHAT TO DO ABOUT BULLYING

It is everyone's responsibility to prevent bullying, here are some things you could do:-

Teachers:

- create a positive ethos and expectation of good behaviour from all.
- talk to children about behaviour.
- take notice of all that takes place outside the classroom as well as in it.
- show an interest in all the children (even those who try to remain invisible).
- watch for early signs of distress in pupils.
- do not allow children to enjoy being curious onlookers of other children's difficulties.
- vary the ways in which children are grouped, so that they can understand consistent patterns of collaboration.
- make all children work together in pairs or groups. Use them to teach each other to learn.
- be fair and be seen to be so.
- insist on children telling the truth. Make sure that all facts are checked.
- promote positive praise for good behaviour.
- have a very clear classroom routine. Use the children to help manage the classroom.
- listen carefully and record all incidents.

Parents:

- It is always a good idea to take an active interest in your child's social life and chat about friends and their activities in and out of school. Make sure you keep up to date with your child's friendships; you may become aware of disagreements or difficulties they are experiencing.
- Watch for signs of distress in your child. There could be an unwillingness to attend school: illnesses such as headaches and stomach aches. Toys or equipment may go missing and your child may request extra pocket money. There are many reasons why your child may be unsettled at school, bullying is always a possibility.
- If you think that your child is being bullied, inform the school immediately and ask for a meeting with the class teacher or phase leader who will deal with the incident, alternatively, you could contact the School Management
- Remember dealing with bullying is everyone's responsibility. Allow the school time to investigate the problem; all reports will be investigated urgently.

Children: If you are being bullied:-

- tell a responsible adult.
- try not to show that you are upset - this is difficult.
- walk with confidence - even if you don't feel that way inside.
- try being assertive.
- say no to the bully.
- if you are different in any way, be proud of it – it's good to be an individual.

You can help stop bullying:-

- don't stand by and watch - find help.
- show that you and your friends disapprove.
- give sympathy and support to children who may be being bullied.
- be careful about teasing or making personal remarks - imagine how you might feel. If you know of serious bullying, tell a trusted adult. It's not telling tales, the victim may be too scared or lonely to tell.

At GURDWARA GURU GRANTH SAHIB SIKH SABHA, PUNJABI SCHOOL, our school agreement follows a rights and responsibilities framework. The aim of the agreement is for all members of the school community to understand their rights and associated responsibilities. We know that children make the best progress when home and Punjabi school work in partnership and that successful learning takes place when all members of the school community feel safe, valued and respected.
